Re: Seattle Thunderbirds

Response to December 30, 2014 Inquiry

Dear Ms. Kane:

This letter is in response to your December 30, 2014 letter requesting additional information from hockey teams operating within the Western Hockey League (WHL) in the state of Washington. This letter contains the Seattle Thunderbirds' responses to your inquiries. We feel that it is important to note that the Seattle Thunderbirds provide each amateur athlete on its team with extensive benefits including an education, sports training, and access to a post-secondary academic scholarship. The players are in the same position as other amateur athletes playing in elite leagues on their high school teams or in the NCAA - many of whom receive the same type of benefits. Moreover, the Seattle Thunderbirds' players and their families - like those playing football, basketball, baseball, and soccer for the University of Washington and their respective families - know that they have entered into an agreement to play amateur athletics at the highest level of competition without becoming professionals. None of these amateur athletes are employees of their respective teams or schools, and neither the players, their parents, the team, nor the WHL have ever understood otherwise.

The Seattle Thunderbirds hockey club has been operating in the same manner under the law since 1977 when they were known as the Seattle Breakers. For approximately 38 years, the Seattle

Thunderbirds have provided an outlet for skilled and talented amateur hockey players to play at the highest level of amateur hockey.

The Seattle Thunderbirds provide the following responses to L&I's specific inquiries:

Inquiries Regarding Players

Inquiry No. 1. Please describe how players join your team.

Response to Inquiry No. 1. In general, the Seattle Thunderbirds scout and recruit amateur athletes in a similar manner to NCAA schools. While some players are drafted as part of the WHL Bantam Draft, others are invited to a training camp where they try out for the team. Players ultimately join the Seattle Thunderbirds by signing or their parents signing a WHL Standard Player Agreement, a copy of which was provided to L&I on February 19, 2014 with the response from the WHL and Affiliated Teams. Players are not eligible to be on the Seattle Thunderbirds protected list until the year of their 15th birthday.

Inquiry No. 2. What restrictions, if any, are there on a player's ability to play for other hockey teams while playing for your team?

Response to Inquiry No. 2. Players are eligible to play at whatever level of amateur hockey they choose. The WHL is a top amateur hockey league. Once a player is placed on the Seattle Thunderbirds' roster, he is not eligible to play for another team in the league, unless he is released, traded or assigned to a lower category of hockey. Prior to becoming a player on the active roster, a player will normally continue his development at either the Midget or Junior A or B level.

Inquiry No. 3. Can a player be traded, promoted, or demoted from your team? Explain how such a process works.

Response to Inquiry No. 3. Players can be traded within the WHL. However, trades are rare, especially for high school players. The system of drafts and trades is needed to balance the level of competition in the league to maximize the development of the players. However, there are neither promotions nor demotions. A player may be assigned to a lower category of hockey for further development. A player who signs an NHL contract may also join an NHL Club as an underage player.

Inquiry No. 4. How many players from the 2013-14 season remained on your team for the current season (2014-2015)?

Response to Inquiry No. 4. 12.

Inquiry No. 5. What restrictions, if any, apply to the number of 15, 16 and 17 year old players a team may have?

Response to Inquiry No. 5. The WHL does not restrict the number of 17-year-old players on the Seattle Thunderbirds' roster. The WHL limits the number of 16-year-old players permitted to play in the WHL to 88 players. The WHL only allows 15-year-old players to participate in a 5-game tryout or following the conclusion of their non-WHL hockey season. This usually occurs if the team happens to be near the player's hometown, or if another player is recovering from an injury and a short-term substitution is needed.

Inquiry No. 6. Please provide name and contact information for all 15, 16 and 17 year olds that have signed standard player agreements for last season (2013-2014) and the current season (2014-2015).

Response to Inquiry No. 6. The Scattle Thunderbirds object to this inquiry on the grounds that it requests confidential information for minor individuals. Without waiving this objection, below is a chart containing the contact information for the parents/ guardians of relevant 15-, 16-, and 17-year-old players:

Inquiry No. 8. Please describe the annual schedule for the last WHL season, and the players' responsibilities under the schedule.

Players are obligated to attend all games and practices for the team. They are also expected to comply with school obligations, as well. As they likely would be at home, players are subject to discipline, including suspension, if they fail to meet their academic responsibilities.

Inquiry No. 9. Do the players adhere to a standard practice schedule from week to week? If so, please describe.

Response to Inquiry No. 9. In general, the players, like other amateur athletes playing team sports, adhere to a standard practice schedule. See Exhibit 2 (Example of Schedule from December 2014). It is important to note that nearly all amateur athletic programs, particularly those with a high level of competition, have standard practice schedules week to week. Compare http://www.azcentral.com/story /sports/college/asu/2014/07/22/asu-releases-football-practice-schedule/12996019/ (Arizona State University's August 2014 Practice Schedule (excluding weight lifting and film sessions), with Exhibit 2.

Inquiry No. 10. Please describe a player's schedule on home game day and an away game day.

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 10. While schedules vary from time to time, in general, the players follow the schedules set forth in Exhibit 2. It is important to note that this is no different than a typical schedule for other amateur athletes playing highly competitive team sports – like NCAA or high school football, basketball, soccer, baseball, or hockey.

Inquiry No. 11. If some players' weekly schedules varied from the practice and performance schedule described above, please explain.

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 11. See Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 10.

Inquiry No. 12. Please provide any schedule maintained by the team that reflects travel to away games, including departure and return times for last season and the current season.

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 12. See Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 10. See also Exhibit 3 (East Division Itinerary for November 10-16, 2014).

Inquiry No. 13. Are the players supervised while playing, practicing, and traveling? By whom?

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 13. Yes. The players are supervised at all times during games, practices and while traveling. They are supervised by the Head Coach, Assistant Coaches, Athletic Trainer, Equipment Manager, and Hockey Operations Assistant. Sometimes, the team's General Manager is also supervising players. Further, players have access to a coordinator who monitors and helps them with school arrangements.

Inquiry No. 14. What limitations or restrictions apply to playing or practice time for 15, 16 and 17 year old players on the team?

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 14. Aside from limitations referenced in the Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 5, there are typically no limitations on practice for 15-, 16-, and 17-year-old players. However, players are at home as school necessitates on practice days and game days. When the team is on the road, 16- and 17-year-old players have the same schedule as the rest of the team.

Inquiry No. 15. Please list, along with job titles, all employees of the team for last season (not including players).

Response to Inquiry No. 15. The Seattle Thunderbirds' employees during the 2013-2014 season were as follows:

Inquiry No. 18. If players live with families in the community, how are those families compensated?

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 18. All host families receive two full season tickets and $300 per month to help cover food costs and other incidentals.

Inquiry No. 19. Do players receive any other housing benefits? If yes, please describe:

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 19. No.

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 20. All players receive $250 per month to help with expenses.

Inquiry No. 21. How are the stipends paid? (by check? How frequently?)

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 21. The expense money is given to players approximately every two weeks and they are made in cash.

Inquiry No. 22. Does the amount of a player's stipend vary from year to year?

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 22. No. Regardless of age, the players receive $250 per month to help with expenses. Prior to the 2014-2015 season, the expense money was graduated based on players' ages.

Inquiry No. 23. Do the players receive bonuses during the course of the season? If so, what are the criteria for receiving bonuses?

Response and Objection to Inquiry No. 23. Players do not receive bonuses.

Inquiry No. 24. What type of visas, if any, do players have to obtain to play for the team in the United States?

Players are required to attend one tutoring session per week and the tutor is available three days per week.

Inquiry No. 30. For high school students, what educational expenses does the team or league provide for?

Response to Inquiry No. 30. Aside from the scholarship program referenced in the February 19, 2014 Position Statement, on an individual basis, the Seattle Thunderbirds pay for school supplies and the tutor referenced above. Further, the Seattle Thunderbirds pays the cost of all required online classes.

Players are allowed to play one season of minor professional hockey (AHL, e.g.) before activating the scholarship. Also, while using his WHL Scholarship, the player must remain a full-time student and must not be forced to withdraw due to failure to maintain passing grades. The value of the scholarship can be applied to any post-secondary institution or career enhancing program. The value of the tuition is based on the player's home province publicly funded university or college. The scholarship must be activated no later than 18 months following the player's final year of eligibility as a 20 year old in the WHL.

Inquiry No. 33. How many players have accessed and used the available scholarships in the last 3 years? At what institutions?

The WHL and the CHL are registered members of Hockey Canada, the national governing body of amateur hockey in Canada. The WHL Washington and Oregon based Clubs are registered members of U.S.A. Inquiry No. 40. What was team's gross revenue from ticket sales last season (2013-2014)?

Objection to Inquiry No. 40. The Seattle Thunderbirds objects to this inquiry as it is irrelevant to L&I's investigation and the central question whether or not the player relationship is employment or some other relationship. This information also has no bearing upon any question that would affect any matter to be investigated or any relief to be sought. The Seattle Thunderbirds' gross revenues from ticket sales last season (2013-2014) has no relation to L&I's investigation in this case, which concerns whether the Seattle Thunderbirds are employing minors in violation of the child labor rules under WAC 296-125.

Inquiry No. 41. What is the gross revenue for ticket sales to date, for this season?

Objection to Inquiry No. 41. The Seattle Thunderbirds object to this inquiry as it is irrelevant to L&I's investigation and the central question whether or not the player relationship is employment or some other relationship. This information also has no bearing upon any question that would affect any matter to be investigated or any relief to be sought. The Seattle Thunderbirds' gross revenues from ticket sales this season (2014-2015) has no relation to L&I's investigation in this case, which concerns whether the Seattle Thunderbirds are employing minors in violation of the child labor rules under WAC 296-125.

Inquiry No. 42. What was the total attendance last season (2013-2014)?

Response to Inquiry No. 42. The total attendance for Seattle Thunderbirds' 36 home games during the 2013-2014 regular season was 156,573 people (including playoff games).
